Pathways to Employment.

Pathways to Employment (P2E) assists eligible inmates exiting custody to find a job that matches their skills, experiences, and employment goals.

Our operation.

Indoor plants play a vital role in creating healthier, more inviting work environments. They soften sterile spaces, boost morale, and contribute to a positive and productive atmosphere—making them an essential element of thoughtful office design.

We operate several nurseries across New South Wales, supplying a wide variety of indoor plants to government offices and other workplaces. These nurseries not only support greener spaces but also provide meaningful opportunities for people in custody.

Every space is unique, and our wide range of plant solutions is designed to suit all environments. We encourage clients to collaborate with us from the initial design and concept stages to ensure we deliver tailored, impactful results.

Our offerings include:

- Tambour planter boxes (inclusive)
- Plants for open and cut joinery
- Living and grow walls
- Designer pots and plants (inclusive)
- Hanging gardens

Our programs empower individuals in custody to take pride in their work, supported by formal education through TAFE NSW, leading to qualifications in Horticulture. As a proud member of the Nursery & Garden Industry NSW/ACT, we help create employment pathways for participants upon release.

CSI also employs Work Release participants in the Sydney Metro Region to manage installation and ongoing maintenance, ensuring consistent quality and care.

This initiative exemplifies how NSW government agencies, in partnership with the private sector, can deliver meaningful outcomes that benefit both individuals and the broader community.

With our expertise, we can craft a unique and visually striking design that complements the environmental conditions of your space. Contact our team today to learn more.
